Wesleyan University - Interim Director of Orchestral Activities

Yale University

- Conductor – Yale Recital Chorus and Orchestra
- Conductor – Yale Repertory Chorus
- Teaching Assistant

University of Michigan – Collaborative Pianist

Noah has directed and/or conducted several Professional Ensembles including choirs of Christ Church and Yale Schola Cantorum (assistant), New Haven, Connecticut. He is the Founder and Artistic Director of Audivi Vocem, Ann Arbor, Michigan, a professional chamber vocal ensemble which has performed at the Detroit Institute of Arts, at an American Guild of Organists regional convention, and on many concert series.

Community Ensemble Director/Conductor

- The Madison Chorale, Madison Heights, MI 2013 – 2015
- Yale Alumni Chorus (assistant), New Haven, CT 2013 – Present
- Yale Camerata (assistant), New Haven, CT 2011 – 13
- United Girls' Choir, Cheshire, CT 2008 – 10

Episcopal and Presbyterian churches have experienced his choir directing and organ playing of their Sacred Music. Currently, Noah is Music Director at Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, Grosse Pointe, MI.

As a Singer in Professional Ensembles, at present, he belongs to Conspirare, Yale Choral Artists, sounding light – Plymouth, MI, and 3Penny Chorus and Orchestra.

Noah has commissioned and composed many works. Recent examples include What wondrous love is this with Audivi Vocem and I look to Thee in every need at Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian.

There have been many other opportunities locally, throughout the United States and across the Atlantic which contributed to Noah's musical experiences.

We welcome Noah and are excited to work under his baton. He succeeds Scott Hanoian, current Music Director and Conductor of the UMS Choral Union, Ann Arbor, MI.
